An Ode to Karnataka’s Coffee

Coffee was introduced to India in the 17th century in Karnataka’s Chandragiri Hills. India’s tryst with coffee began in the 17th century when Baba Budan, a Sufi saint returned from Mecca to Karnataka. Budan did not come back empty handed. He smuggled a clutch of seven green coffee seeds from Yemen, as it was illegal to export coffee beans from Arab lands at that time. Budan was bewitched by the aroma of the brew and slipped in the beans and planted them in the Chandragiri Hills, a verdant spot along the Western Ghats. Today that hill is called Baba Budan Hill after him. The coffee plants in the Baba Budan range thrived unattended and continued to grow wild, even as the East India Company began looking at cultivating pepper and coffee as plantation crops in India.

Today, both species of Coffea arabica and Coffea robusta grow in Karnataka. India is a significant player in the global coffee trade, being the sixth largest producer of coffee in the world. Karnataka accounts for almost 70 percent of the coffee crop grown in India. And the coffee from Chikkamagaluru and Coorg is well known in the world market. Sakleshpur, though a smaller location, is also a significant contributor and a lesser-known region for travellers to visit.

Indian coffee is truly sustainable – environmentally, economically and socially. A diversified pattern of cultivation with pepper, cloves, cardamom, oranges, bananas, vanilla and medicinal herbs is the hallmark of Indian coffee cultivation. Branded coffees of arabica and robusta from these regions are now finding their way into coffee cups around the world, stimulating coffee consumers with their flavours and aroma. Our robustas are considered amongst the best in the world. In addition, a new sub-culture of artisanal coffees is making a definitive inroad in India, with aficionados paying special attention to rediscovering regional flavours. You will find a host of homegrown brands creating a splash in the market for premium coffees.

The coffee industry in the state of Karnataka alone is worth over ₹3000 crore in terms of foreign exchange and employs more than 6,60,000 workers, with 2 million carrying out the trade and helping in the processing of coffee on the farms.

For travellers, a visit to the coffee-clad hills of the state is a journey into the culture, heritage, food and traditions of a people around the region where the bean grows. Majestic bungalows, estate homes and plush resorts nestle in the coffee hills, inviting and hosting travellers into a unique experience. The plantations are indeed home to colourful birds of every description, not to forget the majestic elephants and the stately bison that also frequent them.

The best time to chart out a travel plan for a coffee trail is from October to March when the pleasant weather allows for treks along winding paths, hearty meals and the invigorating company of a good cup of coffee.

The author is CEO of Bangalore-based Coffeelabs and Asia’s first female coffee taster.

Karnataka is the largest producer of coffee grown in India, and the beans from Chikkamagaluru, Kodagu and around are famous in the world market. This has given rise to coffee trails, travel itineraries where lovers of this brew and others find pleasure in the beautiful coffee-growing regions of the state.
Karnataka’s Coffee Trails

Karnataka’s coffee growing regions are an excellent choice of holiday. It’s a real treat to listen to bird calls, luxuriate in plantation homes, view the coffee bushes and gorge on the local cuisine. It’s a picture-perfect holiday and is incomplete without the inevitable hot cuppa.

Seventy percent of the coffee produced in India comes from Karnataka, mainly from Chikkamagaluru (p28), Kodagu (p16) and Sakleshpur (p40). There are many options for travellers to go on weekend getaways from Bengaluru. The calming environs of coffee plantations make them an ideal place to sit back and take in the heady aroma of a fresh cup of coffee.

CHIKKAMAGALURU

Chikkamagaluru is the coffee heartland of Karnataka. For travellers, the incredible scenery from villas and plantation homes makes it easy to sink into a chair and grab a book. If you want something to do, tasting and brewing sessions are also available. Chikkamagaluru is dotted with heritage sites, wildlife and adventure locales. Trekking to the three peaks of Baba Budan Giri, Seethalayanagiri and Mullayanagiri, rafting down the River Bhadra, sporting at the Golfing Club and savouring hearty heritage cuisine are on the cards. To all this, add a visit to the Coffee Yatra Museum (p32) and rambling walks through the plantations.

COORG (KODAGU)

Fragrant coffee estates cover the Kodagu (Coorg) region. Some make the trip only for the fantastic Kodava cuisine. Use charming estate homes or plush resorts as the starting point for treks, birding and nature walks. Choose from high-octane activities like white-water rafting, rappelling, quad biking, kayaking and camping. Madikeri, the centre of tourism in the region, has monuments and temples like the Raja’s Seat (p19), Madikeri Fort (p18), Omkareshwar Temple (p18) and Abbey Falls (p19).

SAKLESHPUR

A holiday at a coffee estate offers the bounty of the Western Ghats with waterfalls, treks and hikes up the emerald-hued slopes, elusive orchids and distinct species of flora and fauna and birdwatching. Visit local villages for immersive experiences and to taste freshly brewed coffee.

MYSURU & BENGALURU

The aroma of coffee is never very far away in Karnataka. The coffee-drinking ritual of ‘by two’ or to share a cup between two people, usually marks the Mysuru (p58) filter kaapi or coffee in Kannada. Bengaluru (p52), is home to a variety of coffee, from humble coffee stalls to new age experimental coffee bars. From the traditional filter kaapi at India Coffee House (p56) or MTR (p54) to frothy lattes at chi-chi outlets, you are never really far away from a good cup of coffee in Karnataka.
Need to Know

The best months for a coffee trail are from autumn to spring

WHEN TO GO

- October – March (high season): This is the best time to explore the coffee destinations with pleasant, moderate temperatures (11°–28°C).

- April – May (low season): The coffee estates are pleasant to visit in this warm weather, and it’s the coffee blossom season too.

- June – September (mid season): The monsoons may curtail sightseeing, but you can enjoy the view of the hills from the comfort of an estate stay.

WHAT TO PACK

- Comfortable shoes: Comfortable, covered footwear is recommended, especially if you’re visiting in the monsoons, and for trekking and walking around the plantations.

- Seasonal clothing: Pack light, cotton wear for the day and a jacket for the night (in winter). Full-length cotton pants are best in the monsoons to avoid leeches in the hills.

- Sunscreen, headgear and sunglasses: Protection from the sun is required both in the winter and summer.

- Original Photo Identity Card: All hotels need a valid photo ID card for check-in. It is imperative that you carry this.

- Prescribed medication: Carry ample prescribed medication for your entire trip. Coffee estates are sometimes in remote locations and do not have easy access to medical care. You will have to travel to the nearest big city in this case.

SAFETY

Karnataka is fairly safe to travel around. Solo travelling on overnight state-run buses is common in the state.

Quick Facts

LANGUAGES
The main language spoken is Kannada but travellers can get around easily with Hindi and English.

MONEY
In the coffee-specific areas of Coorg, Chikkamagaluru and Sakleshpur, it is recommended to carry cash as ATMs may be available in a few hubs only. Most hotels allow card payment, but it’s best to book ahead.

INTERNET ACCESS
Mid to high-end hotels offer free wi-fi with varying degrees of speed. In remote locations, the hotels may not provide Internet access.

MOBILE CONNECTIVITY
Airtel, Vodafone and Jio offer 3G and 4G services throughout the state, except in remote locations where the signal may be sporadic.

TOURIST INFORMATION
Registered tourism offices are all over the state, with the main ones in Bengaluru: Department of Tourism, Government of Karnataka and Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation. Visit www.karnatakatourism.org and www.kstdc.co for more details.

10 Top Experiences

1 BEAN-TO-CUP EXPERIENCE IN COFFEE ESTATES
Apart from taking in the scenery of lush coffee estates in Coorg, Chikkamagaluru and Sakleshpur, another experience lures travellers to the coffee-growing regions of Karnataka. Many high-end hotels and estates offer the opportunity to make your own coffee from freshly harvested beans. The Serai in Chikkamagaluru (p36) takes visitors through the entire process of picking beans, drying, roasting, grinding and making your own cuppa with the help of experts. Alternatively, join Gully Tours to understand the coffee eco-system on a two-hour immersive walk. Travellers find the bean-to-cup trails a fantastic addition to a holiday.

2 LIVING THE PLANTATION LIFE
Acres of coffee plantations surround atmospheric estate homes in Coorg (p16), Chikkamagaluru and Sakleshpur (p40). Even a weekend here is enough time to get the flavour of life on a plantation. Join estate owners in navigating the hairpin dirt trails on the plantations in a 4-wheel jeep drive in the mornings, inspecting the drying process and looking out for local wildlife and birds. Come back to relax in easy chairs on breezy verandahs and sample local homemade food. Polished terracotta floors, high-ceilinged rooms and whirling overhead fans create the perfect mood for respite and retreat.

3 BENGALURU’S ICONIC COFFEE SHOPS
Get a fix of vintage Bengaluru and its iconic independent coffee houses, full of classic charm. Indian Coffee House, Brahmin’s Coffee Bar, Mavalli Tiffin Rooms (MTR), CTR, Konark, Airlines Hotel and Vidyarthi Bhawan have decades of experience in whipping up the local filter coffee (kaapi for locals), served in the steel tumblers-dabara set. An interesting sight for travellers is the metre coffee, a traditional act of mixing the coffee by pouring it and pulling the beverage from one tumbler to the other. stretching as far as one or two metres.
Coffee is an integral part of Bengaluru’s social culture. The pleasant weather all around the year is perfect to be with a good cup of coffee. The tradition has only become stronger over the decades and you’re likely to find loyal patrons at the hippest coffee spots in town. Third Wave Coffee Roasters, DYU Art Cafe, The Flying Squirrel, Benki Coffee Inc. and Matteo are some of the best contemporary cafes in the city. And the homegrown chain, Cafe Coffee Day still dominates in some areas of the city.

COFFEE HISTORY

Chikkmagaluru’s significance as one of the key coffee destinations of India has nothing to do with the presence of coffee conglomerates and large-scale production in recent years. For travellers, it has an incredible historical hook as this is the place where coffee first arrived in India. Follow the mountainous trail of Baba Budan Giri, Sheetalagiri and Mullayangiri hills, where a 17th-century saint (Baba Budan) smuggled seven coffee beans. Enjoy the astounding views of the coffee-laden cloudy valley below from here.

BRAHMAGIRI TREK, KODAGU

The wavy ridge of the Brahmagiri range is easily seen running through most of Kodagu (Coorg), covering at least 181km. The mountains provide an opportunity for trekkers to explore its highly rich bio-diversity and test their own climbing ability on its undulating slopes. The trekking trail passes through rich deciduous forests, shola copses and grasslands. The highest trekking point is 1608 metres and borders Kerala and Karnataka.
KUDREMUKH TREK, CHIKKAMAGALURU

Trekking to the horse-faced mountain (Kudremukh in Kannada) is fun but a challenging experience. It is not recommended for kids or elderly travellers as the trail has several stream crossings and steep patches. The topography changes from lush shola forests teeming with wildlife to sun-baked grasslands before you summit. You are likely to spot deer, wild boars, sambars and if you are lucky, even a pack of bison. The trek is about 9.5km long (one way) and takes a good 8–9 hours to complete. There is one main route, which is supported by local guides and travel infrastructure.

TADIANDAMOL TREK, COORIG

Got a sturdy pair of lungs and legs, and an abiding love for slopes? Then the Tadiandamol trek in Coorg will not disappoint. The peak is the third highest in the state and offers a spectacular landscape of grasslands and dense shola forests of the Nilgiris biosphere. While the altitude may not be more than 10,000 feet, one is rewarded with glorious views of mountains cradling lush valleys between them.

OUTDOOR ADVENTURES

While hiking amidst coffee plantations is the easiest option for active travellers, there are also more challenging options in Coorg, Chikkamagaluru and Sakleshpur. White-water rafting in the Barapole River in Coorg tops the list. This is usually clubbed with rappelling and river-crossing rope activities for a full day of adventure. Thanks to the wet and tropical composition of plantation areas, a variety of reptiles, birds and amphibians can be seen here. Its luxuriant and evergreen vegetation makes a safe home for animals like the lion-tail macaques, the Indian gaur, leopards, tigers and sambar.

COFFEE WORKSHOP

Keep a look out for coffee appreciation workshops by Bengaluru-based coffee brand Flying Squirrel. Learn about the basics of identifying robusta and arabica varieties, processing and how it affects the cup and tasting identification. The workshop includes coffee tasting of arabica, honey sun-dried robusta and French roast.
Coorg has earned itself the rightful title of the ‘coffee capital of Karnataka’. Located on the eastern edge of the Western Ghats, it is blessed with diverse topography of misty mountains, dense coffee plantations, thick forests patches, waterfalls and rivers – a suitable backdrop for both relaxed and high-octane holidays.

Quick Facts

GETTING AROUND

Coorg’s main regions are Kutta in the south, Kakkabbe near the west, Kushalnagar by the east and Madikeri in the centre. From Kutta, you can climb the Brahmagiri peak (p21) and go rafting in the Upper Barapole River. This is also the closest to Bengaluru. If you are staying in Kakkabbe, the highest peak of Coorg, Tadiandamol is very close. If you are coming to Coorg via Bylakuppe, Kushalnagar is a good base and is closest to the Dubare Elephant Camp. Madikeri is most popular as it has the largest number of sightseeing options.

Even though there are local buses to get around, travellers will be able to explore the region most conveniently in a cab. Distances in Coorg are far so plan ahead to optimise time. Rent a cab for approximately ₹10 per km, minimum ₹250–300 per day and a driver allowance of ₹250–300 per day.

Madikeri Fort

There are good views from this hilltop fort built by Tipu Sultan in the 16th century, though today it’s the less glamorous site of the municipal headquarters. Within the fort’s walls are the hexagonal palace and a colonial-era church, which houses a small, quirky museum.

Omkareshwar Temple

King Lingarajendra II commissioned this Shiva temple to be built in 1820 and it has since stood as one of the most revered sights of Madikeri. The Gothic and Islamic influences on the architecture are indicative of the secular tenor of the region. There is a sprawling temple pond in front of the main shrine.

Dawn–dusk

Raja’s Tombs

Located 7km from Madikeri town, these domed tombs, locally known as Gaddige, are built in an Indo-Saracenic style and serve as the resting place for Kodava royalty. The weathered yellow walls also exude a secular charm with turrets borrowed from Islamic architecture and figures of the Nandi bull carved on the entrance. There are three tombs here, one dedicated to the Kodava king Doddaveerarajendra and his wife Mahadeviamma, and the other two are dedicated to Lingarajendra and Rudrappa and were built in the 1800s.

Talacauvery

Feted both for its religious significance and natural beauty, Talacauvery lies 44km from Madikeri. This is the source of the River Cauvery and has a temple and a holy pond to take a dip. Tula Sankaramana is an auspicious day in October when thousands of devotees congregate here to offer prayers. Steps along the main temple area are the starting point of the Brahmagiri trek.

Dawn–dusk

Mandalpatti

Home to a popular sunrise viewpoint, the rolling Mandalpatti Hills are approximately 25km from Madikeri. You can drive up to the forest checkpoint and then either take a jeep to the top or embark on a trek amid impossibly green surroundings. Make sure you carry plenty of water and a few light snacks. This spot is best avoided during the monsoon.

Entry ₹10, jeep ride ₹1500; 6am–6pm

Activities

• Stay at a coffee plantation
• Trek at Tadiandamol
• Sample Madikeri’s local food
• Kid around at Dubare Elephant Camp for kids

If You Like: Waterfalls

Coorg offers marvellous waterfalls slung over large craggy mountainsides. Abbey Falls (8km from Madikeri) is a popular location. The falls plummet from a 70-foot-high escarpment, creating a curtain of white.

Iruppu Falls (48km from Virajpet) in the Brahmagiri mountains are a favourite with tourists. Public holidays tend to get busy and crowded, and so choose off-season periods to experience this blissfully alone.

Dawn–dusk

Raja’s Seat

A very popular spot set inside a garden to enjoy the sunset, as the raja once did, King’s Seat offers fantastic views of rolling hills and the endless valleys. Musical fountains are switched on in the evenings.

Dubare Elephant Camp
The Karnataka Forest Department runs a training camp for elephants at the edge of the Cauvery River and the Dubare Reserve Forest. The Elephant Interaction Programme allows a 2–3 hour engagement with the pachyderm residents, including bathing and feeding them. Children love it here and weekends can mean long queues to give a good scrub to the elephants. A resort by Jungle Lodges and Resorts (JLR) located here offers a day-long package. You can club a coracle ride on the river, a guided walk through the forest and lunch plus coffee. You can add another adventure by rafting at Nisargadhama. An island formed by the River Cauvery, Nisargadhama is accessible by a rope bridge. Most people visit for the rafting, which is also organised by JLR between Dubare and here.

Brahmagiri
The Brahmagiri trek is popular amongst outdoor enthusiasts for its level of difficulty and also the chance to see the biodiversity of the region. The trekking trail passes through rich deciduous forests, shola copses and grasslands. The highest trekking point is 1608m and borders Kerala and Karnataka. Enjoy the picturesque walk and look out for an assortment of flora and fauna that abound here.

Tadiandamol
‘Tadiandamol’ in Malayalam translates as ‘a broad base’. It is in the south-eastern region of Coorg and is best approached by Kakkabe. From there, head 1km to Kaikamba village to the Nalknad Palace (2km; 8.30am–7pm). Start the trek from here or hire a jeep, which can drop you right at the end of the tar road. From this point, Tadiandamol is 5km. The third highest peak of Karnataka overlooks deep valleys of shola forests and misty mountains. Besides trekking, you can observe Kodagu culture and enjoy plantation stays nearby.

Difficulty: Moderate to difficult
Best Season: December to May

EXPERT RECOMMENDATION

Coffee sutra

The highlight of a coffee trail is naturally the opportunity to taste good coffee. A third-generation coffee grower from Chikkamagalururu at Woodway Estates and Homestay, Shreedev Hulikere is a connoisseur who gives a lowdown on the region’s best coffees.

PLANTATION HARVEST

If you harvest a kilo from a coffee plant, you will end up with seven types of coffee. These include Peaberry, Browns, Blacks and bits, Elephantine beans, A, B, C grades and so on. Coffee harvested from one slope on Plantation A will taste different from another slope. Weather, aspect and accent of slope, type and age of plant, shade cover and type of soil all affect the final taste of that coffee bean.

POPULAR BLENDS

Arabica & Robusta: In traditional homes in Karnataka you will get a tumbler of coffee that’s arabica with a dash of robusta. Arabica is mild and aromatic and robusta is a wake up shot of caffeine. Arabica is gaining popularity for use in aeropress coffee makers, and robustas are chosen for expressos.

Peaberry & Chicory: India is the only country that allows 49 percent of chicory to be added to your coffee. Peaberry is used as an export reject. Both are not for coffee connoisseurs but are cheap for mass consumption.

TYPES OF COFFEE

Espresso: Dark roast, fine-grind it for a strong shot of coffee.
Latte: Light roast, coarse-grind it for a cup of coffee with milk.
Cappuccino: Medium, for a frothy, milky cup of coffee.
South Indian filter kaapi: Coffee with milk from a south Indian filter; our ancestors preferred it black with jaggery.
Chikkamagaluru offers coffee trails and trekking holidays

Quick Facts

Why Go?

A historic destination for coffee cultivation in India, Chikkamagaluru is where it all began in the 17th century, after a Sufi pilgrim smuggled in a few coffee beans from Mecca. The lineage continues with abundant production till this date. This perfect activity-centric scenic getaway is dotted with heritage spots and adventure options in close vicinity of wildlife and nature. Home to the highest mountain range in Karnataka, Mullayangiri, Chikkamagaluru is also a popular trekking option from capital Bengaluru.

GETTING AROUND

By road, Chikkamagaluru is 245km (5hr) from Bengaluru on the NH75. Most travellers stay on the outskirts for proximity to coffee plantations. Keep a car in Chikkamagaluru as the distances between sightseeing spots are far. Expect to pay ₹10–12 per km (minimum 250–300km per day plus ₹250–300 driver allowance per day). A host of private and KSRTC buses run between Bengaluru and Chikkamagaluru at regular intervals. An overnight bus (₹345 onwards) helps optimise time.

GREAT FOR

Chikkamagaluru offers coffee trails and trekking holidays.
Sights

The Big Mountain Loop

The mountain loop is a good way to cover some of the most popular spots in Chikkamagaluru. Go past the city traffic towards Kaimara to start at the foothills and head straight towards Sheethalagiri, a 1000-year-old Mallikarjunaswamy temple. The temple itself is not very grand but is worth your while for its history and the prasadam (ritual offerings) which is a fistful of water from a natural pool inside. Next on the circuit is the Baba Budan Giri Hill, also known as the Dattagiri Hill Range (Inam Dattatreya Peetha) after the famous saint. A small shrine is perched at 1895m and the view of the valley from here is breathtaking. The shrine is visited both by Hindus and Muslims. At this altitude, one is often in the middle of clouds and will have a largely misty view if one happens to visit just before the monsoons. The next stop is Mullayangiri, the highest peak (1930m) in the state. Predictably windy and cold, it’s suitable to stay for a short time to enjoy the view. The peak is covered in kurinji flowers when it blooms every 12 years.

Hebbe Falls

From Kemmanagundi, Hebbe Falls is an adventurous off-road drive of 13km, which can only be done by an expert in a 4-wheel vehicle. Rickety Commander jeeps are available on hire (₹300 per person in a shared vehicle) for a round trip. The actual falls need to be reached after a short walk. Be prepared to have the agility of a mountain goat as you have to hop across a shallow rocky stream at two points. The effort is absolutely worth your while as you watch the 55 feet drop from below the gushing water.

Kalhatti Falls

From Kemmanagundi, the drive to Kalhatti is only 10km. These are smaller falls than Hebbe. Make your trip worth more with a stop at the Lord Veerabhadra Temple.

Horanadu

Horanadu is an important pilgrimage centre in Chikkamagaluru and is known for the deity of

Kurinji flowers at Mullayangiri, the highest peak in Karnataka

Activities

- Go on a coffee yatra.
- Experience diverse heritage trails of Hoysala temples in Horanadu.
- Try the popular trekking options like Kudremukh & Mullayangiri.
- Go rafting down River Bhadra.

Top Tip: Trekking

Mullayangiri India Hikes organises treks and adventure trips here. Join them for the Mullayangiri trek, the highest peak here for a hassle-free time (www.indiahikes.com; Brundavana, 1st floor, Plot No 36, 1st Main Rd, Dena Bank Colony, Ganga Nagar, Bengaluru).

Kemmanagundi After trekking to Mullayangiri and Baba Budangiri, trip past Kemmanagundi as it’s an access point to Hebbe Falls and surrounding areas.

Ballalarayana Fort Trek A trek to the 12th-century Ballalarayana Fort on the high reaches of Bettabalige at 1509ft offers breathtaking views of the rolling hills below and is a great one-day trek for nature enthusiasts. If you go to the Bandajje Arabi Falls along with this hike, it can take up to 4-6 hours from Gowdara Mane (www.indiahikes.com).
Annapurneshwari, which was installed by Adi Shankaracharya. The simple but tasteful food served as prasadam everyday will be hard to miss. Thousands sit in neat rows on the floor while Malnad-style food is served by priests in a hurried but orderly manner. An elaborate menu of various offerings can be obtained from the information counter. Horanadu Temple, Chikkamagluru; lunch noon–2.30pm, dinner 8–9.45pm, all days

Belavadi
A pleasant break from the overly touryst places in Chikkamagluru or the Hoysala sector, the Belavadi temple is for those who like peace and quiet. Part of the Hoysala lineage, Belavadi is 29km from Chikkamagluru. More than 100 soap stone pillars greet you in the main hall, before your eyes can go to the three shrines of Lord Vishnu–Narayana, Venugopala and Yoganarasimha. The temple is also mentioned in the Mahabharata as the location where the demon, Bakasura, was slain. Belavadi Temple, Chikkamagluru; dawn–dusk, all days

Top Tip: Coffee yatra
A Coffee Board of India initiative, the Coffee Yatra is a well-thought-out thematic display of coffee history, processes and types at a museum. There is also a lab where one can see the demonstration for grinding and other paraphernalia used in coffee processing. Unfortunately, a tasting experience is missing and the centre is closed on weekends. Coffee Centre, Behind ZP Office, Kadur Rd, Chikkamagluru; adults/children ₹20; 10am–1pm and 2–5.30pm; all days except Sat, Sun and general holidays

If You Like: White-water rafting
Add adventure to your Chikkamagluru trip and go to the frothy and bubbling Bhadra River that runs for 10km in the Kudremukh National Park for adventure holidays. The 3–4km circuit covering 3 rapids can be covered in an hour. www.acepaddlers.com; Near Nadar Pump house, Kalasa Balehonnur Rd, Balehole; ₹1200 per person; all year round
Detour: Belur, Halebidu, Kudremukh and around

BELUR (25km)
The typical Hoysala star-shaped temple, dedicated to Lord Vishnu is known as the Chennakesava Temple. It took 103 years to finish its exquisite 4000 carvings in slate stone. Apart from the awe-inspiring sculptures, a monolithic 50-foot lamp tower which stands without support is also fascinating. Armed with threads to showcase the fine workmanship, government-approved guides are available in plenty. Carvings as minute as lawns of Halebidu Temple. Having seen the Belur Temple, it’s now easier to compare the differences or spot similarities. It is advisable to hire a guide to take you through this Shiva temple, which is aesthetically similar to the one at Belur but also has a number of distinct features. The depiction of the mythological ‘seven in one animal’, Makara, and tales from Ramayana and Mahabharata are more explicit here. Spare at least an hour for a rehearsed but informative guided tour. (Temple Rd, Halebidu; shoes ₹2; better to visit between 8am–5pm, all days).

HALEBIDU (39km)
Once you have dodged the hoard of postcard sellers at the gate, you can really appreciate the manicured topography. Ranges from lush shola forests, teeming with wildlife, to sun-bleached grasslands before you hit the summit. Expect to spot deer, wild boars, sambars and if you are lucky, even a pack of bison. The trek is about 9.5km (one way) and takes a good 8–9 hours to complete. There is one main popular route, which is supported by local guides and travel infrastructure. The Kudremukh trekking trail is inside the Kudremukh National Park; secure permission from the Range Forest Officer (94808765310.30am–5.30pm, trek/forest entry/guide ₹75/200/500).

SRINGERI (86km)
Sringeri is a hallowed site for pilgrims. Devotees throng the sacred mutt founded by Adi Shankaracharya and the Sharadamba and Vidyashankara temples among other shrines in Sringeri (86km from Chikkamagaluru; dawn–dusk). Neighbouring Horanadu, is noted for a temple to Goddess Annapurneshwari. The Hoysala 12th-century Amruteshwara Temple with fine architecture and sculptural beauty is located in the village of Amruthapura, 67km north of Chikkamagaluru town.

KUDREMUKH TREK (96km)
Kudremukh shadows the southwest corner of Chikkamagaluru. One has to put real muscle into this trek and it is not recommended for kids or elderly travellers. The

Unwind and relax at Sakleshpur’s coffee plantations

Quick Facts

Why Go?

A pleasant change from touristy coffee destinations, Sakleshpur offers a more understated experience. Come here to enjoy the ever-pleasant weather and the thick, coffee bush topography, punctuated with bright pepper vines on silver oak trees with cardamom. Plantation walks, luxury estate stays and a vantage base camp for the famous temple towns, Belur and Halebidu, are the heritage highlights.

GETTING AROUND

From Bengaluru, drive or take a cab to Sakleshpur on the Bengaluru–Mangalore highway (225km/4.5hr) as the roads are good with minimal traffic. Else, hop on to a KSRTC bus starting from Kempegowda bus stand. Get down at the Sakleshpur bus stop. An overnight bus would be perfect to optimise time but ensure that you can co-ordinate a pick-up at Sakleshpur as the bus drops you at an unearthly hour. The Kannur Express (16157) train is the most convenient at an 8.30pm departure from Bengaluru and 2.45am arrival at Sakleshpur. Travellers will be able to explore the region most conveniently in a cab. Distances in Sakleshpur are long, so plan ahead to optimise time. Rent a cab for approximately ₹10–12 per km, minimum 250–300km per day and a daily driver allowance of ₹250–300.

GREAT FOR

-Unwind and relax at Sakleshpur’s coffee plantations
Sights

Manjarabad Fort
Trek up the gravelly stairway to the weathered fort built by Tipu Sultan as a strategic defense location. The steep hill is worth the climb only to get a bird’s-eye view of the entire region. Dense green forests and olive coffee plantations spread as far as your eyes can see. Sunsets here are magical. Bengaluru–Mangalore Highway, about 7km beyond Sakleshpur town; dawn–dusk

Betta Byreshwara
Over 600 years old, the temple is located at a short distance from Sakleshpur. Not much can be gauged about the historic and heritage value of this temple at first sight, but it definitely provides a great view from atop the hill. Some people also choose to climb up the steep steps in lieu of a trek in the area.

Dawn–dusk

Bisle Reserve Forest
The reserve forest area off the Bisle village offers an eyeful for nature lovers. On a clear day, one can see the mountain tops of three adjoining regions; Coorg, Hassan and south Karnataka. You can choose to visit the rainforest, replete with birds and other wildlife, if you are accompanied by local guides.

Dawn–dusk

Magajahalli Waterfalls
Post the monsoon is the perfect time to hike to the Magajahalli Waterfall, 21km from Sakleshpur. Also known as Hanbal or Abbi Gundi Falls, the 20-foot-high waterfall is slung over a rockscape, making the perfect height for picnickers to enjoy the soft haze of water that surrounds the falls. The breathtaking and untouched Pushpagiri mountain range surrounds the area.

Dawn–dusk

Jenkal Gudda
Also known as the ‘honey stone mountain,’ one can see this high peak from many spots in the region. An erstwhile favourite with trekkers and camping enthusiasts, permissions to climb this are now sporadic. A medium-level hike to this windy mountain is recommended only if you are accompanied by locals and are in good shape.

Activities
- Unwind at the scattered home-stays and hotels.
- Great monsoon destination for some ‘do-nothing’ time.
- Visit architectural marvels, Halebidu and Belur.
- Go birdwatching in this avian paradise.

Bird Watching
Sakleshpur is a birdwatcher’s paradise with flycatchers, drongos, sunbirds, greater goldenbacks, Indian tits, lesser flamebacks, parakeets and scores of more winged wonders living in the high canopies of forested patches and coffee plantations. Carry binoculars and hiking boots to walk these nature trails.
Detour: Around Sakleshpur

PLANTATION VISITS
Most of the homestays and hotels here are flanked by lush coffee plantations. A walk through these is an easy hike with birding opportunities adding to the experience. The coffee-picking season in December is particularly fun as there is a lot of activity around that time. Coffee beans are picked and spread in almost all courtyards to dry and offer an immersive experience to see how the coffee bean travels through many processes to end up as a steaming mug of coffee on your table.

SHETTIHALLI CHURCH
Located an hour’s drive from Sakleshpur, the remains of the Shettihalli Church look almost fairy tale-like in the backdrop of the Gorur Dam catchment area. Though marred by graffiti, the crumbling structure stands grandly at the banks while fishermen row their coracles to the middle of the waterbody. It is said to have been submerged in the backwaters of the Egachi–Hemavathi Dam at one point of time. Come monsoon, the church gets flooded again earning it the moniker, ‘the floating church’.

GORUR DAM
Though not particularly exotic, the Gorur Dam makes for a good drive from Sakleshpur. The dam gates are opened after the monsoons, which is a better time to visit.

MOSALE
About 52km from Sakleshpur, the Mosale village houses two temples dedicated to Nageshwara and Chennakesava. One has to pass through a village of brightly painted doors to reach these temples. The temples too belong to the Hoysala period but are less intricate. If they are locked, you can invariably ask someone to find the custodian of the keys to open it. She lives in the village.

TEMPLE TRAIL
A trip to the temples in Halebidu can be a treat for heritage lovers. Pilgrims can visit the Kukke Subrahmanya Temple from Sakleshpur. Beluru (37km), Halebidu (50km) and Kukke Subrahmanya Temple (60km).

BENGALURU & MYSURU

Why Go?
Bengaluru knows how to celebrate both the new and old. An important IT hub, it has an artistic, easygoing pace. It both enjoys and rises above its humble claims of local cuisine and has a vibrant gastronomic scene. Crazy about its coffee, hip new coffee shops, vintage joints and new age roasters coexist and all have devoted patrons. Located 145km from the city, the cultural capital Mysuru, offers the special ‘by-two’ coffee at atmospheric vintage cafes.

Quick Facts

GETTING AROUND
Bengaluru is connected to major cities in India and abroad via flights and has a robust rail and road connectivity. The bus service may not offer flexibility to explore the city, so it’s best to choose cabs or auto rickshaws. Cabs cost ₹1200 for 8hr/80km, typically for a full sightseeing. Autorickshaws charge a minimum fare of ₹25 (1.5 times the metre between 10pm–5am). Fix rates beforehand. The Bengaluru Metro (Namma Metro) runs through east-west (purple line) and north-south (green line) and covers more than 40 stations.

Mysuru A number of flights connect major cities like Hyderabad, Chennai, Kochi, Goa and more to its local airport. Regular KSRTC buses and train options making commuting extremely convenient.

Vidhana Soudha and Attara Kacheri
The grand Indo-Saracenic and Dravidian style of architecture of the Vidhan Soudha makes for a magnificent backdrop for photographers. On the opposite of the road stands the Attara Kacheri, the high court, a Gothic building constructed in the reign of Tipu Sultan.

Parks of Bengaluru
Two major parks add to the greenscape of the city: Lal Bagh Botanical Gardens and Cubbon Park. Spread over 240 acres, Lal Bagh has rare botanical gems and a hillock of 3000 million-year-old peninsular gneissic rock. An annual flower show in January is popular. Gazebos to rest in, thickets of bamboo, grassy stretches, a tennis academy, a children’s park and rocky outcrops are encompassed inside the 300 acres of Cubbon Park.

A great option for kids, this theme park offers many options with slides, rides, multiple playgrounds and an old-fashioned carousel.
EXPERT RECOMMENDATION

Coffee trail in Bengaluru

Bengaluru-based coffee fanatic, food enthusiast and blogger, Nithya Anantham chronicles her travels and food through the Instagram handle KaapiLicious. Here are her top choices for good coffee experiences in Bengaluru.

Hatti Kaapi truly lives up to its tag line ‘brewing a metre kaapi’. Try its signature blend – Mysuru Kaapi or Bella Kaapi (coffee sweetened with jaggery) for that much-needed dose of caffeine as soon as you land in the city. Kempegowda International Airport, Arrivals Gate, Devanahalli

Mavalli Tiffin Rooms (MTR) Taste pure filter coffee served in a silver tumbler, made with freshly roasted and ground coffee beans every single day, with no chicory added. 14, Lal Bagh Main Rd, Doddamavalli, Sudhama Nagar

Airlines Hotel Enjoy sipping frothy strong filter coffee from a glass tumbler at this iconic place replete with the old-world charm of Bangalore under a huge banyan tree which is 100 years old. 4, Madras Bank Rd, Off Lavelle Rd

Coffee Mechanics Try the single estate slow coffees with a bit of drama – Chemex, Siphon, house-special Spiced French Press and their signature Mazagran. They also hold coffee brewing classes. 254, 3rd Main Rd, 1st Stage, 5th Block, HBR Layout

Third Wave Coffee Roasters These single-origin speciality coffees from Chikkamagaluru are sure bound to take your taste buds on an exciting ride. Try their Baarbara Estate on French press, MS Estate Organic on pour over, or their fancy seasonal fruity cold brews, flat white, lavender & rosemary sea salt mocha, la vie en rose and the pretty cafe is Instagram worthy. 984, 80 Feet Main Rd, Koramangala 4th Block

Alchemy Coffee Roasters Sip artisanal coffees in style at this beautiful cafe nestled in busy Jayanagar. Try the popcorn latte, affogato, latte de mandorla (latte made with almond milk). 51 Ground Floor, 5th Main Rd, 36th Cross Rd, 5th Block, Jayanagar

A cafe and art gallery with a wide leafy courtyard, Dyu is ideal to enjoy the signature good weather in the city with a delicious cup of filter coffee in hand.

Hatti Kaapi

COFFEE SHOP ₹

www.hattikaapi.com; mains below ₹250

Haati Kaapi has hit the perfect blend with classic Karnataka coffee packaged in modern coffee shops. Find outlets all over town and even at the airport.

Maiyas

RESTAURANT ₹

① 080 43414400; www.maiyas.in; 459, 30, 30th Cross Rd, IV Block, Jayanagar; mains ₹200–500; 7–11am, 12–2.30pm, 3.30–10.30pm (Mon closed)

Maiyas authentic home-style food and classic coffee lures more than 50,000 people each day to the original outlet in Jayanagar. They also have addresses in Malleshwaram, Indiranagar and Yeshwanthpur.

Mavalli Tiffin Room

RESTAURANT ₹

① 080 2222 0022; www.mavallitiffinrooms.com; #14, Lal Bagh Main Rd, Doddamavalli, Sudhama Nagar; mains less than ₹200; 6.30–11am, 12.30–9.30pm (Mon closed)

Established in 1924, MTR prides itself on its atmosphere and authentic south Indian fare. The buzz of regulars is ample testimony to the popularity of the joint. Wash down the classic semolina idlis with a tumbler of filter coffee.

India Coffee House

RESTAURANT ₹

① 080 25587088; Coffee House, 19, Ground Floor, Church Street, Brigade Gardens; mains less than ₹200; 8am–8.30pm

India Coffee House on Church Street is more about the atmosphere than the taste. Laid-back service by red-turbaned waiters, faded walls speckled with portraits of freedom fighters and unfussy wooden seating still hold the charm at this once-hotspot of writers, artists and freedom fighters.

Vidyarthi Bhawan

RESTAURANT ₹

① 080 26677588; #32, Gandhi Bazaar Main Rd, Basavanagudi; mains below ₹200; Mon–Thur 6.30–11.30am, 2–8pm, Sat/Sun/govt. holidays 6.30am–12pm, 2.30–8pm (closed on Fri)

Founded in 1943, the eatery was, and still remains, a staple address for coffee and snacks with luminaries such as Bharatratna Dr CNR Rao, Padma Vibhushan Chief Justice (Retd.) Sri MN Venkatachaliah, Padma Shri Dr KS Nissar Ahmed, and Padma Shri Sudha Murthy.

If You Like: Artisanal coffee

Responsibly sourced coffee from Chikkamagaluru-based estates by artisanal coffee makers in the city are causing quite the stir. Choose from a number of blends, and have aeropress, French press, chemex and pour-overs. Coffee shops and makers like Third Wave Roasters (www.thirdwavacoffee.in) in Koramangala (www.thirdwavecoffee.in), Coffee Mechanics (www.coffeemechanics.co.in) in HBR Layout, The Roastery (② 9663105660) in Kalyan Nagar to Karma Kaapi in Jayanagar, are focused on serving speciality coffee.
Bengaluru’s soul – easygoing, kind and adjusting (expect to share tables with total strangers). Watch how the coffee maker pulls the milk back and forth into the tumbler to understand how the moniker of ‘metre coffee’ came about.

CTR (Shri Sagar)
COFFEE SHOP

%(080) 2331 7531; 7th Cross, Margosa Rd, Malleshwar; mains below ₹250; 7.30am–12.30pm, 4–9.15pm
Another lazy Sunday favourite, CTR’s coffee is made personally by owner Sandesh Poojari. He’s been doing this for the last 25 years, ensuring only one more person stands alongside when he mixes the magic potion. Actress Deepika Padukone is a regular, but the real star, according to the owner, is the fresh coffee!

Taaza Thindi
RESTAURANT

%(07676208899; 26th Main, 4th Block, Jayanagar; mains less than ₹200; 7am–noon, 4.30–9.30pm
Immaculately clean, optimally priced and delicious food make Taaza Thindi swarm with breakfasters in Jayanagar’s 4th Block. The restaurant believes in keeping it simple and swift but delivering excellent food, and even better filter coffee.

MYSURU

Cafe Aramane
CAFE

%(88848 54249; 194/2, Motikana Building, Sayyaji Rao Rd, Devaraja Mohalla, Near SBI, Chamrajpur; mains less than ₹250–500; 7.30am–10.30pm
Rest your travel weary legs at this old school cafe with classic south Indian fare and large Mysuru- themed photographs for company.

Malgudi Cafe

%(0821 425 5000; The Green Hotel, 2270 Vinoba Rd; mains ₹250–500; 10am–7pm
The most atmospheric address to put the breaks on sightseeing and grab a steaming cup of coffee with snacks, Malgudi is loosely styled on the look and feel of the classic TV drama Malgudi Days, written by RK Narayan. The city is also home to the author’s house now turned into a museum. Profits from the cafe assist disadvantaged communities, and most of the staff members are women.

Dasaprkash Paradise
VEGETARIAN

%(0821 4008400; 104, Vivekananda Rd, Brindavan Extension 2nd Stage, Brindavan Extension, Yadavagiri; mains less than ₹250–500; open 24 hours
Fancy a coffee at 3am? Waltz into Dasaprkash Paradise for an early morning coffee fix and vegetarian food.

Hotel Original Vinayaka Mylari
VEGETARIAN

%(94486 08710; Shop No. 79, Near Police Station, Nazarbad Main Rd, Door; mains ₹200; 6am–1.30pm, 3–8.30pm
Simple interiors but fabulous south Indian food including the filter coffee are hallmarks of this basic joint.

Indra Cafe Paras
VEGETARIAN

%(0821 2420236; 1740, Sayyaji Rao Rd, Devaraja Mohalla, Mandi Mohalla;

Top Tip: By-two coffee

Happy to have small shots of filter coffee rather than a whole tumbler, the Mysoreans have popularised the concept of ‘by-two’ coffee – essentially half a glass instead of one. Seems perfect for those who need a quick rush of caffeine versus a large indulgent mug.

THIS GUIDE HAS BEEN RESEARCHED AND AUTHORED BY:

A bonafide vagabond, Supriya Sehgal has traversed the length and breadth of the country for over 15 years. Karnataka is especially close to her heart as she kick-off her solo wanderings discovering different corners of the state and wrote her first travel book about weekend getaways from the capital. Even a decade later, she finds it one of most inspiring destinations in India.

This edition includes extracts from Lonely Planet India (2017).
